Dear Sirs:

I would like to offer this letter of recommendation on behalf of Prosurge Electronics Co. located at Dajin Industry Zone, Foshan 528000, China as an excellent supplier of industry leading surge protection products.

Our company has been working with major companies from China for over 10 years and I can safely state the Prosurge Electronics is one of the best companies that we work with. Since 2011, we have worked directly with Terry Mao the President of Prosurge Electronics and his very professional staff. The products provided by Prosurge are state of the art, excellent quality and most importantly carry all of the necessary international agency approvals such as UL which is extremely important in the United States. The quality and level of professional support by Terry Mao and his staff is also excellent and timely. We have always received answers quickly and accurately for any technical or commercial questions. In addition, Terry Mao regularly visits our company and conducts training sessions and presentations to educate our staff on his company and the products.

I have personally visited the factory of Prosurge Electronics several times and find it to be very organized, focused on quality and service and adhering to ISO9001 the most important international business certification.

As a result of the quality of Prosurge Electronics products and service we have been able to sell these excellent surge protectors to many US companies including major corporations such as General Electric. As surge protection products continue to grow in the North America market I am convinced that many customers will use the Prosurge products which are reliable and trusted around the world. Any customer or supply partner would be very pleased in working with Prosurge Electronics on any level for surge protection products.

Sincerely,

Howard C. Minnick
